LEA HALIDAY

STORY: Lea Halliday was a fourth generation Yukoner with a quick wit and a deep connection to the territory through her Taylor, Drury and Cyr family ties.

Professionally, she worked for many years in financial, business and capital planning roles helping build the Yukon's and the north's telecommunications infrastructure with Northwestel.

As a grad of FH Collins and the University of Victoria herself, she always enjoyed giving back, especially by helping young Yukoners build their skills in those fields.

Taken from us too soon in 2024, she would be delighted to know her legacy was supporting new generations of Yukoners starting their careers.
