

JIM McFAULL and BANYAN GOLD

STORY: Jim McFaull came to the Yukon to work with United Keno Hill Mines Ltd. in the seventies and was a key member of a team of geologists who discovered millions of ounces of silver. From 1990 until his death in 2012, he served as a director or officer with either the Yukon Chamber of Mines or the Yukon Prospectors Association.

The claims staked by McFaull covered a gold in soil anomaly underling Aurex Hill, an area where the Aurex Hill Deposit was delineated by Banyan in 2022.

Banyan Gold and Jim McFaull's brothers Gord and William, jointly set up the scholarship to encourage others in the mining business. Banyan Gold President and CEO, Tara Christie, has a lifelong passion for supporting education and worked with Jim McFaull in the field early in her career.

Banyan Gold Corp. is the exploration company focused on advancing the AurMac project which includes the Aurex Hill area and Deposit. Banyan is a strong advocate for hiring and training locally and providing benefit from our operations to the local communities.
