

EARL THORNTON

STORY: Earl Thornton (1956 - 2016) came to Whitehorse in 2001 to drywall his brother's house (Andrew Finton) and fell in love with the Yukon. He moved here in 2006.

Earl was a master drywall finisher and truly brought precision and perfection to the work that he did. He left beautiful homes in Ontario and various Yukon communities.

Earl was very generous volunteering his time, often drywalling without taking any payment. He also helped with the Sundog Retreat canoe carving project in 2009 and was instrumental in several building projects at Sundog Retreat.
