

SUSAN THOMPSON

STORY: Susan Thompson was a fisheries biologist and long-time member of the Yukon Development Education Centre. She started Fish4Kenya in 2005 when she saw the potential and opportunity for the development of pond fish farming to provide food, income, and socio-economic empowerment of villagers in western Kenya, particularly women.

At the time of Susan's passing in 2012 there were about 80 trained and active fish farmers in five communities involved with Fish4Kenya producing significant amounts of food and income. The project continues today.
