

TED & NICKY HARRISON

STORY: Edward (Ted) Harrison (1926 - 2015) served in WWII, finished art school in England, received a teaching diploma, and set off to teach around the world. He immigrated to Canada with his wife Nicky and their son Charles and moved to Carcross in 1968. The family moved to Whitehorse in 1971.

The strongest influence in his life and art was living in the Yukon. He loved spending time at his Crag Lake cabin. This property now is home to the Ted Harrison Artists Retreat.

Ted Harrison was one of Canada's most popular artists. His distinctive style of painting is both colourful and sophisticated. He also wrote several children's books.
